

Levidi Arcadias

Levidi is a small town Arcadia, Peloponnese, Greece. The town is situated on the northeastern slope of the Mainalo mountains, at about 850 m elevation. While the Mainalo is densely forested, the plains towards the northeast contain farmlands. Levidi is 12 km southwest of Kandila and 20 km northwest of Tripoli. Levidi was the site of several battles during the Greek War of Independence from the Ottoman Empire.

